

Mrs. Haskell, Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order Good Templars, of Silver Lake, Mass., tells of her cure by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pingham: Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and niceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines and washes internally and externally until I made up my mind that there was no relief for me. Calling at the home of a friend, I noticed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My friend endorsed it highly and I decided to give it a trial to see if it would help me. It took patience and perseverence for I was in bad condition, and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nearly five months before I was cured, but what a change, from desnair to hampiness, from before I was cured, but what a change, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful exhilarating feeling health always brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars, and your Vegetable Compound is a grand medicine.

"I wish every sick woman would try it and be convinced." - Mrs. IDA HASKELL, Silver Lake, Mass. Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order of

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million eases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me"? Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. You have some derangement of the feminine organism, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as surely as it has others.

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINEHAM: I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain if I had known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a few months sooner, for I tried many remedies without finding anything which helped me before I tried the Vegetable Compound. I dreaded the approach of the menstrual period every month, as it meant much suffering and pain. Some months the flow was very scanty and others it was profuse, but after I had used the Compound for two months I became regular and natural, and so two months I became regular and natural, and so I continued until I felt perfectly well, and the parts were strengthened to perform the work without assistance and pain. I am like a different woman now, where before I did not care to like a I am pleased to testify as to the second live, and I am pleased to testify as to the good your Vegetable Compound has done for me. " Sincerely yours, MRS. TILLIE HART, Larimore, N.D.

Be it, therefore, believed by all women who are ill that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they should take. It has stood the test of time, and it has hundreds of thousands of cures to its credit. Women should consider it unwise to use any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass, will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women. Perhaps she has just the knowledge that will help your case — try her to-day — it costs nothing.

"I am not opposed to organized labor," said the Rabbi, "and the principles of this association are not antagonistic to labor undons, nor as an organization does it seek to curtail the liberties of the laboring man, But we must organize against unions where they reach out for our liberty and freedom. We have no desire to deprive the laborer of his liberties, but we must oppose the growing sentiment that a man has no right to live or breathe, unless by the grace of some labor union, and unless we give up our individual rights we are not nermitted to earn our daily bread."

The president read his report of the financial conditions of the association, and urged the membership. He said that the membership was now 5,000, the largest organization, except one, in the city.

A communication was read from the secretary of the National Industrial Association, which will meet in New York in November, and suggested that this branch of the national body send a large delegation to the second annual convention.

It was decided to hold regular meathly meetings on the fourth Thursday of each month.

Mrs. Minnie Minzi of East St. Louis Is Shot Twice by Masked Man.

BROTHER LOCKED IN ROOM.

Plucky Boy Grapples With Housebreaker and Fires Twice, Without Effect-Farmers Held Up.

Residents of the outlying districts of East St. Louis are in a state of terror on account of the robberies committed in the city and suburbs early Wednesday morning, one woman having been shot while struggling with a burglar.

Mrs. Minnie Minzi, who keeps house for her brother, William Pope, of No. 1768 Lincoln avenue, Lansdowne, a suburb, was sleeping in the sitting-room at home. She was awakened at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning by a noise in the room. At first she supposed that the person in the room was her little 7-year-old daughter. When Mrs. Minzl asked what was wanted the intruder said, with an eath, "Keep your mouth shut, or I will blow off your shot her twice, the first bullet striking her in the leg, while the second entered the left breast.

Her brother, who was sleeping in the next room, was awakened, and tried to go to her assistance. He found the door locked from the outside. He crawled out of the window and ran around the house to his sister's room.

Doctor Little, who responded to a call, pronounced the wounds serious, but not necessarily fatal. Mr. Pope found that the robber had stolen his watch and purse, containing a small sum of money. After robbing Mr. Pope the fellow had locked the door as a precaution in case he was discovered in another part of the house. Mrs. Minzi gave the police a good description of the burgiar. He was about 5 feet 19 inches in height, weighed 150 pounds, wore a dark suit of clothes, a slouch hat pulled down over his eyes, and a mask made from a red bandana hand-kerchief, fastened over the lower part of his face and neck.

Frank Turner's home, at No. 1722 Lincoln avenue, was entered, the burgiar cutting a screen. While the thief was riffing Mr. Turner's pocket, Mrs. Turner was awakened, She hegan to scream, and the fellow ran out of the front door, carrying the trousers, which he threw away after securing a gold watch and some change.

From the home of Charles Munsen, at No. 1732 Lincoln avenue, burglars stole a gold watch, two rings, several stick pins and a small sum of money. The occupants were unaware of the robbery until they awakened in the morning.

After going through the four houses on Lincoln avenue, the robbers went toward Ohio avenue. At the home of Sam Ridgeway entrance was effected by opening a screen. The burglar succeeded in getting a gold watch and some small change. He was frightened away by Mrs. Ridgeway. She saw a shadow on the wail as the fellow set toward the children's room. Thinking one of the boys had arisen to get a drink, she investigated. She rays that the burglar was a white man and did not wear any mask. She thinks that she could identify him if she ever saw him again.

He did not pay particular attention to it, as he supposed that it was his wife, who had come in to see how he was getting along. In turning over his leg pained him, and he called his wife by name. She came and met the fellow face to face. Her screams awakened her son Harry, who is it years old. Running in he grappled with the fellow. As the negro acted as if he was going to shoot the boy ran back to his room and, getting a revolver, ran out in the yard, firing two shots as the burglar climbed the back fence.

Harry Harmon and Charles Jenkins, farmers, residing near French Village, were bringing a wagon load of cabbage to the St. Louis market, early in the morning, when they were accosted by two men who asked permission to ride into East St. Louis. After riding a short distance the fellows tried to strangle the farmers. Harmon, who is a large man, struck his ascallant with a heavy whip, knocking him from the wagon. Harmon then went to the assistance of his friend and in the scuffle the three fell from the wagon. The team became frightened and ran away, the highwaymen escaping.

His niece, Miss Eva Gray, lived with him. He left no children. Melvin Lamond Gray was born at Vt., July 20, 1815. He was of Scotch-Irish descent, and his age at the time of his death spoke of the mentally vigorous and sturdy stock. The grandfather of Mr. Gray participated in the War of the Revolution. A brother the Reverend Doctor Edgar Harkness Gray. was for four years chaplain of the United neral of President Lincoln. Reared in a rural community, Mr. Gray divided his time biween farm labor and attendance at school. He was ambitious to secure an education, and after being graduated from the village select school he studied a year without the aid of a teacher, to prepare himself for the sophnore class of the Middlebury College, in 1836. He was graduated three years later, since 1842, at one time one of the most Alahama, two terms. He received in pay-prominent members of the local bar, and ment for his services State bank currency

In the full of 1842, Mr. Gray moved to St. Louis and continued his law studies. A year later he opened a law office, having been admitted to the bar. He pracspecialty of admiralty and trade-mark laws. He gained more than a local reputation, and the volume of business that he handled yearly made him one of the most successful practitioners in St. Louis. He was identified with many movements in charity, and was in many ways a benefactor. He gave to Drury College $5,000 to establish and endow a professorship in honor of his wife. He also gave much assistance to the St. Louis Academy of Sciences, and in 185 and 187, served as president of that institution. He was also a member of the Miscouri Historical Society.

Mr. Gray was a personal friend of Eugene Field, and the latter was a frequent visitor at the Gray home. Mr. Gray was executor of the estate of the poet's father. Field wrote a beautiful tribute to the memory of Mrs. Ruth C. Gray, when she died in 1833.
